Grace is poured abroad in thy lips: therefore hath God blessed thee for ever.
Because of truth, and mildness, and justice: and thy right hand shall conduct thee marvellously.
Hear, daughter, and see, and incline thine ear, for the king hath coveted thy beauty.
All the rich of the people shall beseech thy countenance, the daughters of kings in thine honour.
Virgins shall be brought to the king after her: her neighbours shall be brought to thee.
They shall be brought in joy and exultation: they shall be brought into the temple of the king.

Part of my complete edition of the published vocal works of William Byrd made available through the Choral Public Domain Library (http://www.cpdl.org).
For general editorial notes, please visit my user page at http://www.cpdl.org/wiki/index.php/User:DaveF.
All scores are made freely available according to the CPDL Licence for downloading, printing, performing and recording. No further conditions are or can be attached, although it's always good to hear of any performances.
Please do not, without consulting me, make copies of my scores available through other websites – there's no need, first of all, as CPDL is always here, and secondly by doing so you put these editions beyond my control and so will miss out on any updates and revisions.

Edition transposed down a tone from published pitch

Sources:

Polyphony: [William Byrd: Mass for four voices] (No title or publication information on any surviving edition; probably printed in London by Thomas East, c.1592).

Plainsong: from the Liber Usualis, chosen for their mode rather than liturgical function. If the Mass is used liturgically, performers may wish to substitute the proper chants.

Part of my complete edition of the published vocal works of William Byrd made available through the Choral Public Domain Library (http://www.cpdl.org).

Unhappy am I, bereft of all help, who have offended against heaven and earth. Whither shall I go? Where shall I turn? To whom shall I fly? Who will take pity on me? To heaven I dare not lift my eyes, for against her I have sinned grievously. On earth I find no refuge, for to her I have become an outrage.

What therefore shall I do? Shall I despair? Let it not be. God is merciful, my saviour is loving. Therefore God alone will be my refuge. He will not despise his own work nor reject his own image.

To thee therefore, most loving God, sad and sorrowful I come. For thou alone art my hope, thou alone art my refuge.
What however should I say to thee since I dare not lift my eyes? I shall pour out words of sorrow, I shall beg thy mercy, and I shall say: "Have mercy upon me, O God, according to thy great compassion."

Watch ye therefore (for you know not when the lord of the house cometh, at even, or at midnight, or at the cock crowing, or in the morning):
Watch therefore, lest coming on a sudden, he find you sleeping.
And what I say to you, I say to all: Watch.

Ne irascaris Domine
